In the color chart below (not an exact replication of color since it is on paper), the upper left hand corner color is Platinum, what we call off-white at times and appears darker than shown here, in real life. The one next to Platinum is labeled white, you can see has some color to it and is available but may come with slight differences based on age of fixtures or affected long term by dirt, sun, etc. The next color, cool white is available at times. Remember also all inventory and availability is first come first served and can be sold awaiting your funds clearing.
